

A close-up photograph of a field of green wheat, with the stalks and heads of grain in sharp focus. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green. A white, hand-drawn rectangular border frames the central text. The text is written in a white, stylized, serif font. Below the text, there is a single white horizontal line.

BACK TO.....
B.S.M!

We are going to visit, The calvaire
of the marins

THE CALVAIRE OF THE MARINS

The ordeal of sailors, whose shape evokes the hull of a boat, is a sanctuary dedicated to sailors lost at sea.

Its location on the cliff offers a breathtaking view of the port, the harbor and sometimes the English coast.

Sanctuary dedicated to the memory of sailors who disappeared at sea , 1400 missing.

On January 25, 1995, the sanctuary will be washed away
with the cliff ...

Beurrière House

The beurriere house

The ground floor presents the reconstruction of a maritime interior at the turn of the century, while the first floor traces through engravings, photos, objects and costumes the life of this port and this district which will fall under the bombs in June 1944.

Located in the heart of the old typical district of Boulonnais sailors at the top of the rue du Mâchicoulis, in staircase, an authentic fisherman's house built in 1870 allows you to discover the habitat of a family of sailors around 1900.

there were three families on three floors

Castle Museum

castle museum

there are objects
from all continents

the museum, founded in 1825, presents various archaeological collections, constituting the first set of France

